

MEDITERRANEAN HOUSE IN THE NATURE

Built surface: 200 m² Plot: 1000 m²

Surrounded by forest we find this interesting house to enjoy nature a few minutes from Palamós beach. With only a few houses as neighbors, it will appeal to those who want the tranquility of being isolated from any urban center or urbanization, simply surrounded by nature, but only five minutes from the services offered by Palamós and close to an urbanization.

Without being a very large house, everything leads to enjoying its spaces, interior and exterior, which transmit feelings of tranquility and relaxation, in winter with the warmth of the fireplace in the living room and in summer with its terraces with a view of the sea in the background, the pool, or the rockery area and garden.

The main floor of the house has two double bedrooms, a full bathroom, open kitchen and living room with fireplace. At garden and pool level, there is a separate study, also with a fireplace and a bathroom.

The house is completed by the swimming pool, terrace, a large porch with barbecue ideal for gatherings with family or friends and the rock garden.

There is a one car garage and an outside porch for two more cars.
